

The Canberra Times Times

Friday, June 15, 2007

2

Do you see who I see?

Viewed close up these images show a woman, but step back and they become a man. These pictures are more than a clever trick, they are part of a scientific study using 'hybrid' images to better understand how our brains perceive the world around us.